

Smart People are Cool.™

MS. NEVERNOTES' STORY

After a terrible plane crash at age 3, Julie's brain suffered major trauma and was replaced with a genetically enhanced proto-type brain made by "Smart Laboratories." Rumor has it that this brain is equipped with a super-human memory, and that it has the ability to throw mind waves that make people believe everything Julie says. The one thing Julie is unable to remember, thanks to a careless surgeon, is that other people do not have a super-human memory.

Since her operation, Julie, now 24, has surpassed most adults with her intellectual capabilities. She can remember almost anything she desires! However, she fails to recognize the need for students to write information down and study it - she doesn't have to so why should anyone else? While Julie can rely solely on her memory, others cannot.

Her incredible memory has earned her the nickname MS. NEVERNOTES because she never writes anything on paper. When the evil ruler heard about her, he contacted her about joining THE UNTEACHABLES.

Now MS. NEVERNOTES convinces students worldwide with her "Satelliar" that they do not need to take notes, so students forget information and do poorly in school. This Satelliar is an antenna that can broadcast to just one person or to thousands at a time. If you have ever been convinced not to take notes, her Satelliar has probably influenced you.

MS NEVERNOTES has also recruited a team of thieves called the "Kleptomaniac Krew." Their mission is to steal as many notebooks, pens, pencils, and hi-liters that they can find. Her Kleptomaniac Krew is invisible to the human eye, and to this day no one knows where all the missing school supplies are being stored. Students start the year prepared with the proper note-taking supplies, but somehow, throughout the course of the school year, these supplies disappear. The only way to guard against these invisible thieves is to keep close watch on your supplies. Also, be careful who borrows your supplies, because they could be secret agents of the Kleptomaniac Krew. Without the proper supplies, it is impossible to take good notes.

MS. NEVERNOTES is very convincing and her team of thieves is waiting around every corner. It is important that you keep track of your note taking supplies so you can take good notes during class. Don't let her convince you to "just remember the information." Remember, smart people are cool! (You may want to write that down!)
